ANTICIPATE CONVENTION

Fight For Control of League
State Meetings is Opened in the State

Activity in Nonpartisan league circles was renewed today here at a conference of about 25 leaguers, including former Governor Lynn J. Frazier and former Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor John N. Hagan. Informal meetings behind closed doors were held at which the political situation was discussed.

The call for the conference was sent out from Minneapolis by Mr. Hagan. He and Governor Frazier came in on the midnight train. Several Nonpartisan officials or state employees, Representative Vogel, of Coleharbor; H. A. Paddock, former secretary of the Industrial Commission, and others were here. Mr. Paddock said he came from St. Paul where he maintains a law office on legal business in federal court and not for the conference.

The fact that the meeting was held in Bismarck and brought a number of Nonpartisans from the western part of the state together was regarded as some significance in political circles. There appear to be three factions in the league at present, the Townley "balance of power" group, the Liederbach or majority of the state committee faction and the so-called Lemke faction.

The Courier-News announces the conference here as the beginning of a fight to control the forthcoming Nonpartisan league state convention. The attitude of the league organ now is governed by the majority of the state committee, or the Liederbach faction. It has opened a fight on Townley's "balance of power" plan. Both the so-called Lemke group and the majority of the Liederbach faction want to see a full league ticket in the field in the June primary, and do not take kindly to Mr. Townley's plan. There are many adherents of the Townley plan in the league, however, who believe that the league can exert immeasurably more power through holding itself forth as a non-political organization demanding that the political parties put the league demands into action.

League township meetings to select delegates to the forthcoming state convention are to be held February 22.

D. Taylor resumed their duties today with the announcement that they had made practically no progress in the case as a result of quizzing Davis.

Though some of the investigators have eliminated Edward F. Sands, former valet for Taylor, from any connection with the case, the search for the missing man has not been abandoned.

LUMBERMEN IN SESSION TODAY

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 17.—More than 60 members from all parts of North Dakota and western Minnesota, had registered for the first session of the 15th annual convention of the North Dakota Retail Lumbermen's association which opened at the Fargo Commercial club yesterday afternoon. There are 105 members in this organization the majority of whom are expected to attend the convention, which will continue through today, according to H. S. Sherwood, Fargo, secretary.

In the absence of C. N. Cox of Minot, president of the organization, Otto Bauer of Mandan, formerly president of the association, presided at yesterday's meeting. Mr. Bauer gave a brief outline of the progress of the lumbermen's association and also of its purposes.

MRS. GOULD FIXES LIVING PITCH
AT $50,000 A YEAR FOR SOCIETY WOMAN

EDITH KELLY GOULD

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN.
New York, Feb. 17.—She didn't want to be a discord, so she brought a court action to keep in tune!

Thirteen years ago Edith Kelly Gould was a $25 a week chorus girl. Today she is a leading lady and her pitch—lowest note—is $50,000. So she is bringing suit for that amount against Frank J. Gould, whom she married in 1909.

"My financial pitch really is more," she says. "But I hope soon to be earning enough money myself."

How much does she spend?

She enumerated her expenditures for a year:

Clothing, underwear, shoes, etc.	$18,000
Apartment	5,000
Food	5,000
Entertainment	5,000
Dancing and music lessons	4,000
Auto	4,000
Doctor	2,000
Dentist	1,000

How much does she make?

Several hundreds a week.

Hardly Enough.

It is the increase from the chorus to the leading role—

But it is hardly enough for a Gould.

"The joint personal expenses of Mrs. Gould and her husband" Eugene E. Sperry, her counsel, said, "have been more than $700,000 a year."

Edith Kelly Gould smiled.

"That would have sounded like a fabulous sum if I had heard it years back."

She had been a chorus girl in London and New York. When "Havana" was the hit of the season, she was the famous "Havana Girl."

Frank Jay Gould, who had obtained a divorce from his first wife, fell in love with her. They were married in Scotland and then moved about between New York and Paris.

For eight years they lived in luxury.

Then they found themselves incompatible. Court action was started in France. The wife failed to defend the suit claiming American citizenship.

She is now carrying the fight into the courts here.

"With my marriage my mode of living became different," she said.

"My pitch of living was changed. I started living in a higher key. We had estates, chateaux, everything—I can't get keyed down now."

"I can't live as I did when I was a girl."

Love Is the Only Thing.

"Of course, no one should marry for money—love is the only thing."

"But we must all live in harmony with ourselves."

"However, if you want to be happy, don't place your financial pitch too high."

She was busy. She had to go on with her part—the lead in "Pins and Needles," an English revue now in New York.

She went off—

Singing as she did when she was in a lesser role—

But in a different key.

Governor Will Support Effort
To Stop Escapes

Warden L. L. Stair, of the state prison, will be given full support of the governor in quelling convicts or preventing escapes from the state prison, the warden was informed by Governor Nestos upon reporting the unsuccessful attempt of three convicts to escape.

It is said that because of difference in politics between the warden and the governor convicts have circulated rumors that the warden doesn't dare take stern measures. The governor informed the warden that he would support him in any necessary and just measures to preserve order. Warden Stair has instructed guards to shoot any convict found trying to escape, if necessary.

CHEAP PORTABLE

Mexico City, Feb. 17.—Workmen in the federal district of which Mexico City is the center, are to live in cheap portable houses to be built by the government if the request of congress by President Obregon for an appropriation of $10,000,000 is granted.

The president asserts that this is the only way to remedy the extreme housing congestion in the capital.

16,000 Board Feet
of Lumber Out of Enormous Spruce Log

Hoquain, Wash., Feb. 17.—An enormous spruce log, 16 feet in diameter, believed the largest ever cut in this section, recently was sawed into 16,000 board feet of lumber here. When first put on the saw, the big log broke the mill machinery, and was not cut until repairs were made.

Some time ago a large log was brought here but no mill would tackle it and it was placed in a Hoquain park for exhibition purposes.

Executive Board of Sinn Fein
Protests Statements Made
By Premier Craig

Belfast, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Forty-two Ulster unionists, kidnapped during the recent raids across the border from the south, have been released. Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, today telegraphed Colonial Secretary Churchill that he had succeeded in obtaining their liberation.

Last night was the quietest Belfast has experienced since the outbreak Sunday night of disorders that have taken more than 30 lives.

The executive board of the Sinn Fein in Belfast after a meeting last night sent a telegram to Prof. John MacNeill, speaker of the Dail Eireann, in Dublin, as follows:

"On behalf of the religious and political minority of Belfast forming 100,000 citizens we protest against the misleading and lying statements contained in the telegram addressed by Craig (Sir James, Ulster premier), to the premier in England in which he says the recent numerous attacks to which our people have been subjected are the outcome of raids in Tyrone, Fermanagh and other raids."

There was further incandescence last night in county Tyrone, where yesterday an unsuccessful effort was made to destroy a workhouse which the military had commandeered for barracks purposes. A large mansion owned by a Belfast firm was destroyed by fire last night. From these incidents inference is drawn in police quarters that the Tyrone Sinn Fein are attempting to see to it that the Crown forces shall not have temporary barracks in that county.

REDUCTION IN FREIGHT RATES
IS PREDICTED

Speaker at Fargo Meeting Sees Lower Building Rates in Prospect

Fargo, Feb. 17.—A substantial reduction in freight rates affecting building material may be expected next spring or early summer, N. E. Williams, traffic manager of the Fargo Commercial club, told lumbermen of North Dakota and western Minnesota in convention here today.

Williams said that he based his opinion on concessions granted agricultural interests of the country and the pressure for lower rates.

He emphasized that building cannot be resumed in any large degree until transportation charges are cut. There have been blanket increases in freight rates since 1919 of 35 per cent adding that the greater portion of this probably would be cut off again.

He suggested that carriers like rail, fall merchants meet the lower tide like special sales.

Declaring that a discriminatory charges amounting to about 35 per cent were made against North Dakota as opposed to Minnesota shippers the speaker said that efforts to correct this condition would soon bring concessions, he believed.

WISCONSIN MAN RELEASED FROM PEN,
HELD GUILTY, AFTER TEN YEARS

Madison, Wis., Feb. 17.—John "Dog-Skin" Johnson, was released from the state prison today after serving ten years and six months of a life sentence for the slaying here in 1911 of ten-year-old Annie Lemberger, a crime which Governor J. J. Blaine is convinced he did not commit.

Six months investigation into the probable circumstances surrounding the crime to which "Dog-Skin" pleaded guilty and for which Martin Lemberger, father of the girl, was formally charged with manslaughter several weeks ago convinced Governor Blaine that "there is one fact that stands out clearly and that is that Johnson did not murder Annie Lemberger."

Although charged with manslaughter in connection with the death, the father, who had been accused of killing the girl with a beer bottle at his home when she failed to obey him as promptly as he wished, had the case nolle prossed, taking advantage of the statute of limitations.

Three hundred thousand dollars worth of real estate bonds were signed today by state officials, the first of the present series of bonds to be sold, and money will be forthcoming for the bonds soon. Real estate mortgages on which the bonds are based were delivered.

SALE OF SEATS
IS GOING GOOD
FOR BIG EVENTAthletic Carnival To Be Given
At Auditorium To Draw
Many Boxing Fans

STRONG CARD OFFERED

The sale of seats for tonight's athletic carnival has been very satisfactory, especially from the smaller towns and from Mandan. The card offered by the Bismarck Athletic association tonight is equal to those offered in the St. Paul auditorium at prices ranging from two to three times the prices asked by the local management for tonight's entertainment.

The Roberts Brothers both of whom won enviable reputations in the navy during the World War, need no introduction to Bismarck lovers of sports. They will put on four fast rounds preceding the semi-final between Silver Perry of Miles City, mid-dleweight champion boxer of Montana, and Kid Bliven of Grand Forks, who is one of the fastest and cleverest boxers in the state, and a "man with a punch."

The curtain riser will be found rounds between Kid Fogarty and Johnny McGowan, Kid Brown of Chicago, being unable to appear.

The main event, Battling Krause against Johnny Knaut of Fargo should be worth double the price of admission. No one has yet been able to put Krause away, which speaks well for his ability. Knaut is a whirlwind boxer, and as both men are in the best possible condition this event should be well worth the price of admission alone. The entertainment is being put on by the Bismarck Athletic association for the benefit of the Bismarck Base Ball club, and will insure a permanent athletic field for the use of the high school football and field athletics, for the Boy Scouts, and for any entertainment which may come to Bismarck where such grounds are needed.

"Everyone should buy a ticket, no matter whether he can attend or not; he owes it to the club and to the community," said a member of the athletic association.

SPEAKS TONIGHT
ON VALUATIONS

Former Congressman Humphreys To Appear At Commercial Club

Former Congressman W. E. Humphreys will deliver an address tonight in the Commercial Club rooms at 8 o'clock on the subject of the American Valuation plan of the Fordney tariff bill. Mr. Humphreys comes here from Minot where he addressed business men at the Commercial Club on the subject. He comes to Bismarck tonight under the auspices of the Lions club.

The American Valuation plan of the Fordney tariff bill has caused much discussion throughout the country and because of this fact and the opportunity of hearing a speaker discuss the various phases of the subject, members of the Lions club expect a large number of business men to be present.

Mr. Humphreys will speak in favor of the plan. Opportunity will be given business men to ask questions on the subject.

Raymond D. Bischoff, 25, a federal investigation at Chicago disclosed, has only $1000 in assets to meet $4,500,000 liabilities. NEW SENATOR
FROM IOWA IS NAMED TODAYChairman of Republican State Committee to Succeed William S. Kenyon

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 17.—Charles A. Rawson, of Des Moines, is the new Senator from Iowa. Announcement of his appointment to succeed William S. Kenyon in the upper house of congress was made by Governor N. E. Kendall today. Mr. Rawson is chairman of the Republican state central committee.

Mr. Rawson, it is understood, will serve only until a successor is chosen at the general election in November. He will start serving when Senator Kenyon's resignation goes into effect Feb. 24.

Charles A. Rawson, president of the Iowa Pipe and Tile Company of Des Moines, Iowa, announced today to succeed Senator W. S. Kenyon of Iowa has been chairman of the Republican State Central Committee in Iowa since the second election of Kenyon to the Senate. Mr. Rawson and Mr. Kenyon were roommates at college and Mr. Kenyon's elevation to the senatorship was through the personal work of Mr. Rawson.

"Charley" Rawson is an institution in Iowa. Independently wealthy, he has never been classified as a man of wealth but as a "good fellow." He probably has a larger personal acquaintance throughout the length and breadth of the United States than any other Iowa man and is known by practically every voter in the state.

He has been a great friend of the college men and there are hundreds of young men who owe their completion of college work to his friendship and the knowledge that it sometimes takes money to complete a college course.

Mr. Rawson never dabbled in politics until he became interested in making Mr. Kenyon senator, and held to the position of chairman of the Republican Committee only that he might be of service to the senator.

He is president of the board of trustees of Grinnell College, a member of the Congregational church, and holds a number of social and business club memberships.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—County jail officials today expressed belief that their fight to keep Harvey Church alive so that he can die on the gallows for the murder of Bernard Dougherty would fail.

MOORISH BANDIT MAY SURRENDER TO SPANIARDS

The Same Man Who Once
Drew the U. S. Into Action in That Part of The World

THAT WAS 17 YEARS AGO

Notwithstanding, Raisuli, Is Gracious and Dignified —
Idolized by Wild Adherents

Washington, Feb. 16.—Raisuli, the Moorish bandit who has just again offered to surrender to the Spanish military forces which are pushing an active campaign against him in Morocco, is the man who once drew the United States into action in that vexed corner of the world.

He figured in that celebrated incident when Secretary of State John Hay demanded "Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead."

That was 17 years ago, in 1904. Raisuli had captured Ion Perdicaris, a naturalized American citizen and kept him prisoner. President Roosevelt sent a fleet of eight American war vessels stripped for action into Tangier Harbor while John Hay sent his famous message to the feeble Sultan in nominal command there.

Raisuli, who now says he is "too fat to fight" had long been a leader of the wild tribesmen who have frequently swamped the trained battalions of a civilized power.

Perdicaris, a wealthy man, was president of the European Commission administering affairs in Tangier City in 1904. He has told the story of his capture and it was recounted some time ago in a National Geographic Society Bulletin. He was snatched out of his summer home by Raisuli's raiders and borne off to a mountain stronghold.

From there, the chieftain proceeded to open up negotiation with the Sultan of Morocco. Perdicaris' family and eventually in indirect fashion with the American government, concerning the price to be paid for his captive. The United States cut short the chaffering in the fashion described. The Sultan, panic stricken, sent $70,000 in silver to Raisuli, appointed him governor of a district, turned loose some of his friends from Tangier jails, and incarcerated some of Raisuli's enemies in their place. Perdicaris later returned to the United States to express his thanks.

Prosperity, however, came close to ruining his erstwhile captor, Raisuli. He got into a quarrel with the Sultan about his governorship, was thrown out, and promptly retaliated by bearing off for ransom Kaid Sir Henry McLean, British commander of the Moroccan army. He arrayed his tribesmen for battle, and descended upon the coast, doing much damage to European interests, and in 1907, succeeded in setting all the hair-trigger in European diplomacy.

The French navy bombarded one of his captive towns, Casablanca, the port practically extinct. Kaiser Wilhelm came to his aid, snuffing undue French expansion in prospect, but the matter was straightened out in a council chamber instead of on a battlefield. Raisuli was chased back to his mountain fastness, but news dispatches every few years record another of his eruptions.

"In many respects the man interested and attracted me in spite of all my natural motives for dislike," Perdicaris says of Raisuli in the Geographic Society's report. "Raisuli was gracious and dignified, not to us only, but to his own wild adherents, who evidently idolized their chieftain, whose position among them seemed that of a head of a highland clan in olden times. He was quick to see the humorous aspect of a situation, while his repartee was as immediate and to the point as though he had been born in the County Galway."

Not a Mere Brigand
"I found myself unconsciously accepting his contention that he was not a mere brigand or cattle-lifter, but a patriot struggling to lift his Berber followers from the tyranny of corrupt officials. His charm of voice, the natural poise and dignity of his manner, his self-control under provocation, all betrayed a superior character."

Perdicaris remarks that "Raisuli could not bear to hear a child cry," but there was a fiercer background for the tribesman's motivation. Cromwell Varley, step-son to Perdicaris, was cracked over the head in the raid on the American's summer home, and both men were forced to ride many miles in tight bonds.

"It was in connection with the framing of the ultimatum 'Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead' that a trusted correspondent of The Associated Press in Washington is concerned." The Geographic Society Bulletin remarks, "Being entrusted with preparing a message for President Roosevelt to sign, Mr. Hay did so, and submitted it to his friend, the newspaper man, for his opinion. 'Well, it may be diplomatic, but the Sultan will never get you in the midst of all those words,' was in effect the newspaperman's verdict. 'Why not say what you mean, and no more. Mr. Secretary,' Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead."

The Secretary agreed. President Roosevelt approved and the Sultan, so far 'got' this succinct American demand that he abandoned all usual oriental indirection."

NEVER WANTS ANYTHING ELSE
"I tried many different kinds of cough medicines," writes Mrs. E. K. Olson, 1917 Ohio Ave., Superior, Wis., "but I never want anything else than Foley's Honey and Tar. I used it for all my children and also for my grandchild. It has always done the work." Foley's is a pure, wholesome and absolutely safe remedy for the relief of colds, coughs, croup and whooping cough. Children like it and it checks sneezing and snuffling. Adv.

SWISS WILL DEFY DEATH IN CLIMB OF MOUNT RAINIER

Mt. Rainier and Daring Swiss Who'll Try to Climb it in Midwinter.— Left to right, Jacques Bergues, Jean Landry and Jacques Landry.

By NEA Service.

Seattle, Feb. 16.—Despite predictions of seasoned mountaineers that certain death awaits them, three daring Swiss climbers are out to set a new record by making a midwinter ascent of Mt. Rainier, 14,414 feet high, the highest snow-clad peak in the United States.

Scaling Mt. Rainier is no easy task in the summer. And in midwinter, with many feet of snow obliterating trails and making treacherous sheling out over crevasses, the feat has been considered impossible. No attempt at a winter ascent has ever been made heretofore.

But the trio, Jacques Bergues, Jean Landry and his brother, Jacques Landry, have records to show successful ascent of more than 30 peaks in the Swiss and French Alps.

They declare application of Swiss methods to old Rainier will be successful and will result in opening mountain climbing as a new midwinter sport in the northwest.

A special detachment of army signal corps men will accompany the party as far up the mountain as possible and from this point will keep up communication by wireless telephone between the climbing trio and the outside world.

More than two weeks will be consumed in the ascent and descent, it is estimated.

of copper for Sweden's own electrification projects.

Professor Crastio, head of the Russian Department of Electrification, recently arrived at Trollhaettan, in central Sweden, and began negotiations with Gunnar W. Anderson, head of the large industrial combine which is now delivering locomotives to the Soviet government, for the purchase and delivery of turbines and other needed machinery for the Russian power stations to be constructed within the next few years. Trollhaettan is one of Sweden's largest manufacturing centers.

While the details of the Russian order cannot be given at this time, it is said that three of Sweden's largest mechanical works will have to be pressed into service to meet the Russian contract. Professor Crastio said the Russian electrification plan involves the building before 1930 of about 10 large power stations with a total of 1,000,000 horse-power.

One of the largest of these power stations is to be located at Wolchow, about 70 miles south of Petrograd. Two stations are to be constructed on the Swir river between Omega and Ladoga lakes.

The Russian electrification plan contemplates also the erection of a large number of steam power central. Should this ambitious scheme of the Russian Soviet government go through as scheduled, it is likely that Swedish electrical and mechanical engineers will be drafted to install the Eldridge, N. D., Feb. 16.—Lars Wahl, cashier of the Eldridge State bank and F. W. Hohenhaus narrowly escaped asphyxiation from coal gas given off by a furnace which they left checked upon retiring. Hohenhaus' room was tightly closed, the door, window and ventilator being shut. Missed from his boarding house, investigators found him unconscious in bed, and although medical aid was immediately summoned, he could not be revived for several hours. Wahl was found in a stupor, but as his room has slight ventilation his condition was not so serious. Both are now recovering.

Two more cylinders make a world of difference.

You notice it when the LIGHT-SIX slows down to a snail's gait in traffic. You notice it when the open highway ahead invites the throttle. You notice it in the greater responsiveness, the greater flexibility, the greater smoothness and in the absence of vibration.

There are new driving pleasures waiting for you in the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX Sedan.

Not only is its motor more powerful, more flexible and freer from vibration than any other light six-cylinder motor ever produced, but the perfect distribution of the car weight over all four wheels gives it unusual riding and driving qualities.

If you have been accustomed to driving a "four," the responsiveness of the LIGHT-SIX will be a revelation. If you are now driving another six-cylinder car, the lack of vibration and perfect balance of this LIGHT-SIX will create new standards of riding comfort.

But, equally important, is the new low price of $1750—an intrinsic value without parallel in the industry!

RAILROAD BODY URGES DRIVERS TO BE CAREFUL

Issues Appeal to Drivers of School Busses Setting Out Dangers

The state railroad commission, as a part of its "Safety First" campaign has addressed an appeal to drivers of school busses urging care in crossing railroad tracks. In a letter the commission calls attention to the following:

"The majority of accidents at railroad grade crossings are the fault of the driver of the vehicle.

"All crossings are dangerous. Statistics show that more accidents occur at crossings where trains may be seen for half a mile or more than on blind crossings.

"It is impossible to judge the speed of an approaching train. Passenger trains run from 45 to 60 miles per hour in the open country; freight trains average from 25 to 45 miles per hour. A train running 60 miles per hour moves 88 feet per second, and at 50 miles per hour, moves 73 feet per second. An automobile or other vehicle can be easily stopped, whereas the speed of a train can scarcely be slackened after it is apparent that the driver intends crossing ahead of a train.

"Drivers of busses should exercise great care in crossing railroad tracks not only as a matter of safety, but also as an object lesson to the children. If the children are impressed with the necessity of using care in crossing railroad tracks, they will be very likely to use the same degree of care when driving a car or team themselves. On the other hand, if drivers of school busses take chances on railroad crossings, (and they are taking chances unless they positively know there is no train within a half mile) the children will later do the same thing, and it is only a question of time when a fatal accident will occur.

Don't Take Chances

"Do not depend on a railroad time table to determine whether or not trains have passed. Passenger trains are frequently late, especially in the winter time and during bad weather. Freight trains may be expected at any hour, since comparatively few of them are operated on a regular schedule.

"Don't take a chance. Before crossing a railroad track, the driver of a bus should come to a full stop and have someone go ahead to make sure that no train is approaching. We ask your cooperation in our efforts to reduce the train crossing accidents."

3 GREAT-GRAND CHILDREN COME IN 48 HOURS

Thereby, Mrs. Bertha Perkins,
97 Years Old, Experienced
Real Thrill

Sabetha, Kan., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Bertha Perkins, who will be 98 years old next April, found a real thrill recently when three additional great-grand children arrived in three Sabetha homes, within a period of 48 hours. They brought the number of her descendants up to 274.

Mrs. Perkins' five generations of descendants are divided as follows:

Ten children, eight of whom are living.

Seventy-five grand children.

One hundred fifty-five great grand children.

Twenty-five great-great grandchildren.

Nine great-great-great grandchildren.

Mrs. Perkins was born in Virginia, April 25, 1824; married David Perkins in Ohio, March 16, 1843. Her maiden name was Bertha Marcum. In 1843 they emigrated to Iowa, and in 1857 took a homestead in this—Nemaha county—where she has lived ever since. Mr. Perkins died in 1893.

"Good and old fashioned cooking," is the recipe Mrs. Perkins gives for her longevity. "It is no wonder people do not live to old age like they used to, considering the rich foods they put in their stomachs nowadays. People do not eat enough coarse food. Corn bread once in two or a day would improve their health. Here are a few of her ideas as she expressed them.

"I believe women should aid their husbands in voting right, but do not believe women should go into politics or vote.

"Cooking courses in schools and colleges run too much to fudge and fancy dishes. I believe still, that the best place for a girl to learn house-keeping and cooking is from mother—but I am in doubt whether some of these modern day mothers know much about such things.

"Work is the best tonic. Why I do something every day. In the summer time I take care of my vegetable garden. Last summer I raised so many vegetables I had them to pass them around among the neighbors."

Krause, who has been coming fast in his bouts in the western part of the state, is counting on a victory tonight to put him on the top-rung in the Northwest. Word from Fargo says that Knauf does not discount the ability of Krause, and is looking for a hard match. A fast, furious boxing match is expected.

The advance sale of seats has been good and a big crowd is expected. The preliminaries offer remarkable opportunity to see some fast

GREAT RECORDS ESTABLISHED BY 900 PULLETS

The Contestants Have Laid 139,477 Eggs in Past Year

Farmingdale, N. D., Feb. 17.—(By The Associated Press)—The exclusive young flapper section at the State Institute of Applied Agriculture was all affluter with excitement Wednesday. There was much artful cocking of heads and preening of fine feathers. For in some way the news had gotten about that before nightfall all the good flappers, just budding into hood, were to get beautiful young husbands, with delightful backgrounds of wealth and social position. The fact, savoring of Asia, that the brides-to-be had never seen their future husbands didn't seem to bother the flappers. Nor did the fact that each was to share her husband with 19 others. Monogamy still is unknown in the world of White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds and Plymouth Rocks.

Today's weddings mark the second stage of a three-year egg-laying and poultry breeding contest being conducted by B. A. Ahrens, head of the institute's poultry department.

During the last year, 900 pullets from all parts of the East, have been devoting their energies solely to egg laying, and have established enviable records for themselves. The contestants entered by poultry raisers for the experiment-contest, laid 139,477 eggs in the year, or an average of 152.11 per pullet.

Lays 252 Eggs

A single comb White Leghorn owned by F. J. Loveland, of New York, carried off first prize with 252 eggs. Mr. Loveland's white Leghorn pen also carried off the prize with a total of 3,739 eggs. There were 107 pullets out of the 900 entered, that produced 200 or more eggs.

The second, or breeding phase of the contest, will continue through March, April and May, each bride being allotted a setting of 10 eggs. The hens will not be permitted to hatch their own families, however, this detail being attended to in incubators.

Next fall, 20 pullets from each pen—one from each hen's brood—will be as possible—will be selected and placed in the pens their parents occupied.

Tests as to their skill as layers and parents, conducted during the following season, will conclude the contest.

The objects of the contest, which is supported by a $15,000 appropriation of the legislature and by fees from entrants, are:

To encourage selection of stock and a closer study of the physical characteristics which determine a bird's producing and breeding ability.

To furnish each poultry raiser with an accurate record of eggs produced and the breeding ability of each hen entered.

To return to the farm at the end of each year some registered birds with their records of performance which may be used in establishing a definite and successful method of breeding.

And to demonstrate to poultry raisers the methods and practices in breeding and management that will lead to higher production and greater profits.

MONEYS LEVIED FOR TAXES IN 1906, ARE PAID

North Dakota's State Treasurer is receiving moneys for taxes levied sixteen or more years ago and this fact keeps alive on the books of the Treasurer and the State Auditor some twenty-five funds that are not now a part of tax collections. Collections on taxes levied as far back as 1906 are very small, realizing sometimes five cents for the general fund, a cent for some of the other funds and a fractional part of a cent for some of the smaller funds.

In the class of funds for which small amounts are still being received as taxes levied for certain years are collected are all of the old millage taxes levied for the benefit of the state schools. This plan of raising money was abandoned in 1915, but tax moneys of a dollar or so a month are being received as some county treasurer receives belated taxes or finds some bit of personal property which escaped taxation in the previous years and secures payment of the amount due the state.

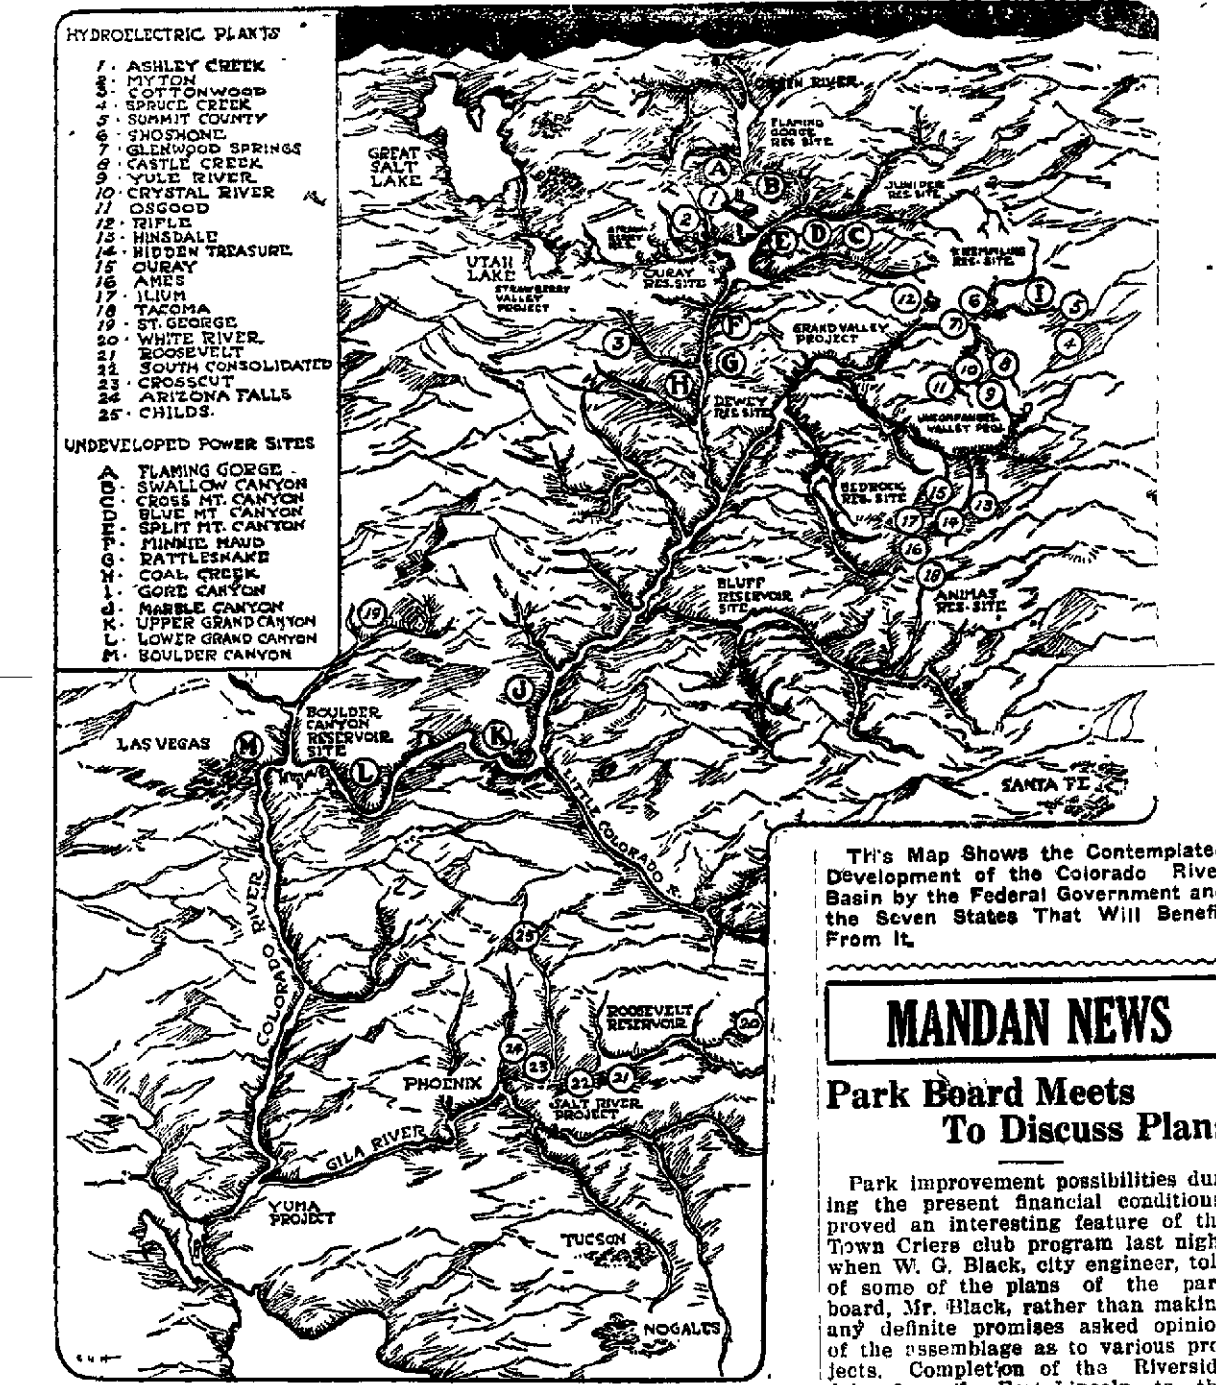

A list of some of the funds, taxes for which are not levied at present, but which are kept in the records each month by small collections follows:

BY HARRY HUNT

Washington, Feb. 17.—How to harness 6,000,000 water horsepower, belonging to seven states, convert it into electric energy and irrigate 5,000,000 acres of land with the same water that furnishes the power, is the problem to be tackled by the Colorado River Commission, headed by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, at hearing to begin at Phoenix, Ariz., March 15.

At a preliminary session, just concluded in Washington, agreement was reached upon developing the power and irrigation facilities of the river as a unified whole, each development being considered as a part of one coordinated system.

As an index to the magnitude of the full development of the Colorado's power possibilities, the commission from private interests, applying for the right to develop individual sites, provide for aggregate expenditures of more than $600,000,000!

Seven States Affected

The problems of the Colorado affect directly seven states and the necessity for reconciling the demands and claims of these separate states caused the creation of the commission headed by Hoover. Each of the states affected—Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming—has a representative.

As an example of these conflicting interests, California—which contributes least to the river itself—stands to benefit more largely by its development than any of the other states, Colorado and Utah, which supply about three-fourths of the water flow, are inclined to press their prior rights to the water for diversion for irrigation.

Before progress can be made "a peace pact must be reached between these states, providing for the division of the water supply. Such a compact would be subject to ratification by congress and the various state legislatures.

First Development

First on the list of likely power sites to be developed is that at Boulder Canyon. Here the waters of the Colorado are compressed between towering rock walls only a few hundred feet apart. A dam 600 feet in height would provide water power to generate 600,000 horsepower of hydroelectric energy. Such a dam and plant would cost about $40,000,000.

Los Angeles, 250 miles to the southwest, would be the first large market for the power thus developed. A large potential market, however, lies within 200 miles to the southeast in the mining districts near Phoenix.

The Southern California Edison Company, in planning distribution of power, in event its application for one of the major power sites is granted, has planned to carry power as far as San Francisco, 500 miles distant.

The possibilities of power development on the Colorado may best be visualized when it is understood that

GERMANS SELL TOMBSTONES TO GREAT BRITAIN

Aberdeen, Scotland, Feb. 17.—German competition is even cutting into the tombstone business and thereby affecting the granite trade which is one of Aberdeen's leading industries.

Large English cities are reported to be buying tombstones and even war memorials from Germany at rates that are substantially cheaper than those while paying present wages.

American wholesale agents who once bought large quantities of Aberdeen granite also are reported to have purchased $50,000 worth of headstones from Germany, these being manufactured from Scandinavian granite.

In consequence there has been a great slump in orders received here from tombstones and mortuary memorials. Many Aberdeen granite firms have notified their workmen of an impending cut in wages.

VISCOUNT BRYCE POSSESSED MUCH SENSE OF HUMOR

Guests Were Struck Dumb When Band Played Wrong Piece, But Bryce Laughed

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 17.—The sense of humor possessed by the late Viscount Bryce, formerly British ambassador to the United States, who passed away recently in England, was strikingly illustrated at a banquet tendered the statesman here some years ago by the Tampa Board of Trade.

The orchestra at the hotel where the banquet was held was composed of Tyrolese, none of whom could speak English. Willis B. Powell, formerly widely known middle western and eastern newspaper and advertising man, then secretary of the Board of Trade, was charged with the preparation of the musical program and he undertook to instruct the orchestra that when the British states did the honors Great Britain and the ambassador and the assemblage arose and lifted glasses for the toast, the orchestra should play "God Save the King." To be certain that the leader understood his instructions Powell whistled a few bars of the British national anthem.

The auspicious moment arrived. The toastmaster feelingly spoke of the cordial relations between Great Britain and the United States, proposed a toast to the mother country and her ambassador, the company arose—and the orchestra burst out with "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

Saw the Joke

The guests were struck dumb and all eyes turned toward Mr. Bryce. That gentleman began to laugh. He laughed until the tears streamed down his face.

When the orchestra concluded its rendition of the air so popular with the army and navy during the Spanish-American war the party applauded loudly and the musicians, feeling highly honored by the accolade, played it again.

Mr. Bryce was so greatly amused at the incident he took steps to see that the newspapers in Great Britain recorded it and from that source it went all over the world.

Harmon Property Destroyed By Fire

Awakened by smoke which choked them and induced coughing, Swan Pidarson, farmer living ten miles north of Mandan near Harmon and a grown son narrowly escaped asphyxiation or cremation early Monday morning, according to the story they told Monday when in to report the loss of their farm home to I. C. Iverson, insurance agent.

The elder Pidarson awakened and opened the door of the bedroom to investigate the smoke and found the outer rooms a mass of flames. He awakened his son, they seized a few articles of clothes and then leaped through a window just as the whole house was enveloped by fire.

With the mercury at nearly 20 below zero and standing barefooted in the snow, they donned what clothes they had saved and turned their attention to preventing the spread of the blaze to the other farm buildings, waging a successful battle and then finding shelter in the granary until daybreak.

The loss was about $1,500 with $1,000 insurance.

Mrs. Howard Seaman was the guest.

HUNGARIANS IN APPEAL TO PRES. HARDING

Budapest, Feb. 17.—The fate of Hungarian immigrants who are being turned back at Ellis Island because they exceed the quota of admissions permitted by the American government, is giving great concern to the immigrants' relatives and to the public.

The articles of the Magyar Naplaza, a Hungarian newspaper published in the United States, describing the despair and sufferings of these unfortunate, are being reproduced locally. Newspaper editorials urge the Hungarian government to take up the matter.

Serious charges are made against the Hungarian Emigration Bureau for permitting the emigrants to go to America in the face of the fact that they knew the quota had been exceeded. The relatives of these emigrants are preparing an appeal for help to President Harding.

Club Celebrates Seventh Year of Its Organization

The Bismarck Thursday Musical club held their seventh annual banquet at the Grand Pacific hotel last evening at 7 o'clock. Fifty-nine guests found their places by means of place cards appropriately designed for the musical organization.

A delicious three course dinner was served, planned by the committee in charge, Mrs. C. W. McGray and Mrs. W. L. Smith. Beautiful flowers and ferns were tastefully arranged on the banquet table.

Mrs. J. P. French was a very efficient and clever toastmistress. She brought out the fact that the club had been organized seven years ago. The first toast was given by J. F. Paul, Gross on "Reminiscences," in which he gave many important musical events in the history of the state of North Dakota. The toast was sent by Mrs. Cross of Dawson, who was unable to attend the banquet, and was given by Miss Elizabeth Jones. As this toast was sent by mail the toastmistress styled it "post toasties."

The following musical program was given:

Vocal solo—"Thy sentinel Am I," Mr. Ferner.

Vocal solos—"The Pine Tree," Sailer; "Butterflies," Feller; "Slumber Song," MacFayden, Mrs. Herman Scheffer.

Piano solo—C Sharp Minor, Polonaise, Chopin, Mrs. H. O. Wray.

Vocal solo—"A Feast of Lanterns," Bantock; "Nightingales at Lincoln's Inn," Oliver; Mrs. John Graham.

Ladies double quartet "With violin obligato by Mr. McDonald, "Till Evening Wind," Saint Saens; "If My Song Had Airy Pinions," Hahn; Mesdames Arnot, Bauer, Morris, French, Scott, horn, Targart, Vesperman and Miss Jones.

Vocal solos—"Fe Faran Rosa," Ardipl; "My Little," Thayer; Mrs. Kessler of Dawson.

The program was pleasingly varied and of unusual interest. The banquet and program were a complete success and each member was pleased in the splendid advancement of the club during the seven years since its organization.

Meetings Are Held At Baptist Church

About 25 men enjoyed a fine dinner last night at the Baptist church prepared by the ladies after which they heard Dr. Dawden, missionary to India, now on furlough, and Rev. Weisla, director of religious education for the Baptist churches of North Dakota.

The general public then heard Rev. Weisla on the necessity and importance of making the full hundred million dollars set as the goal of the Northern Baptist Convention for a five year period. Dr. Dawden followed with his interesting message of his work in India. He brought the encouraging fact that, while only three out of every hundred Mohammedans and only five out of each hundred Hindus are literate, sixteen out of each hundred native Christian Indians can read and write. Dr. Dawden for seven years has been in charge of the colony of hereditary criminals in India. The British government sends whole families to him, while the entire colony numbers about two thousand. These people belong to the lowest caste, and are difficult to reach and manage. They make their living by stealing and robbing just as the weaver makes his living by weaving.

One very formidable class of these criminals carry small scissors in the mouths with which to clip the jewels from the ears and nose of their victims.

There is a staff of 45 people whose business is to keep the criminals at work teaching them a trade. There are shops of all kinds in which the people are set to work as soon as they are sent in.

Dr. Dawden wears a medal for distinguished service, a medal given by the British government only to persons who are not British subjects, with the inscription, "For Personal Work in India."

Miller Reception and Banquet Most Pleasing Affair

The reception and banquet tendered Federal Judge and Mrs. Andrew Miller at the McKenzie hotel on Saturday evening, February 11, was without doubt the biggest and most successful social event of the season, the occasion being graced by the presence of judges of the state supreme court, district judges and prominent attorneys and business men and their ladies from practically every section of the state.

Many compliments on the affair have been received by committee members.

The reception committee, consisting of about 25 prominent citizens of Bismarck, gathered early in the evening at the McKenzie hotel, where there had been reserved for them a large suite of rooms on the parlor floor. The committee in charge was given able assistance by the hotel management in making the affair a notable success.

Judge and Mrs. Miller's friends began to gather at 6:30 and came in a steady stream until the spacious lobby and parlor of the McKenzie were packed. Judge Miller and family entered the hotel at seven o'clock and were shown to suite 600, which had been especially arranged for them.

The reception line formed at seven-fifty-five. Judge and Mrs. Miller were immediately presented and were royally and enthusiastically received. Patterson hall, reached through an entrance off the parlor floor of the hotel, and where the reception took place, had been beautifully decorated for the occasion. Oriental rugs were spread upon the floor, and chairs, artistically placed, and tables bearing baskets of roses completely filled one end of the large reception hall.

After the reception, which continued for just an hour, Judge and Mrs. Miller, followed by their party, led the way to the main dining room of the McKenzie, where there was spread the most elaborate banquet ever given in the city of Bismarck. The tables, beautifully decorated with ferns and carnations, completely filled the spacious room, every place at the banquet being occupied by an admiring friend of the newly appointed federal judge. In the center of the table where were seated Judge Miller and party was a large basket of Ophelia roses. The roses were tendered to Mrs. Miller, and were later sent to the Miller home.

After the guests had entered the dining room, and before being seated, all joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne," the singing being led by Henry Halverson.

STYLE NEWS FROM NEW YORK

The following letter has been received by Miss Ankenmann of the Rose Shop, from Mrs. Rose F. Hoffman, who is on a buying trip to New York and other eastern points.

New York, Feb. 12, 1922.

Dear Anna Mae:

Again I find myself quite engulfed in the center of fashion's whirlpool. My eyes are fairly strained with gazing at Fifth Avenue's gorgeous shop windows, each shop seemingly vying with the other to portray to the women of 1922, all that is correct in present day attire.

As I am hustled along the avenue of the Allies, with the surging and ceaseless crowd, my attention is attracted to a smart cape, and capes my dear, have indeed come into their own this season. One sees them everywhere, of all kinds and conditions. From capes to the smart Camille's Hair Cloth for general utility wear.

One smart show window displayed the dearest taffeta frocks, so charmingly quaint and designed. I should say, expressly for the "Jeune Fille."

The next window held forth a blazing array of bright crepes, made up in attractive sport models and by the way, the gay sweater, frilly blouse and silk or wool skirt, may be worn straight through the day. Fashion has decreed that sport costumes are correct for any informal summer wear.

Gay little soft crush hats play an important part in one's wardrobe this season, they have a dash and originality that is positively irresistible.

Hoping you are keeping shop as perfectly as always and that you are taking the proper precaution against these dreadful wintry blasts I am,

Appreciatively Yours,

ROSE F. HOFFMAN.

PERSIAN "RED" ESCAPES FROM SHAH COSSACKS

Ehsanulla Is Rated Most Picturesque Bandit Leader of Middle West
HE IS NOW IN MOSCOW

Moscow, Feb. 17.—Ehsanulla, the chief of the red revolutionary movement of Persia, who last June made a daring raid that all but succeeded in capturing Teheran, has escaped the Shah's cossacks and is now here. "The people's struggle against the Shah and the feudal landlords has failed. There'll be no more," he said. His comrades leaders in the revolution were killed.

Ehsanulla is rated the most picturesque figure of all the bandit and revolutionary leaders of the Middle East.

Educated and daring, for 16 years he has fought the established order in Persia. His long hair and shaggy beard are known to thousands of Persian peasants.

He is known as the Carl Marx of Persia, but in many ways resembles Makno, the peasant leader of South Russia. He has never been captured, though he has taken part in every armed struggle of Persia since 1906. He might now be master of the Teheran and of Persia but for quarrels between two of his associate leaders, Kutehik and Haidar.

Belrayal, Forces Retreat
With a peasant army threatened by Russian communists, he struck from Resht to Teheran, while many of the Shah's 50,000 troops were putting down risings at Tabriz and at Horoshan, and was within 35 miles of Teheran when a betrayal in his own ranks gave news of his whereabouts and forced his retreat.

"After the Anglo-Russian treaty, by which both nations agreed to leave Persia alone," said Ehsanulla, "I realized that the Sayyid Zia-u-Din government was a reversion to the old corrupt law of the feudalists, each of whom is a little Shah, and that the rule of the combined peasantry and educated class would go under, perhaps forever, unless I made a last desperate effort."

Almost Captured Teheran
"So I got together a few thousand peasant soldiery and by secret paths and rapid marching tried to reach Teheran. The Cossacks of the Shah began to attack me and the Russian Communists with me lost heart. I fought until I was surrounded and then retreated."

"An Englishman no longer dares to go into North Persia, but this is not much satisfaction for me since they will again control in Teheran. My pity is for the poor peasants. I built schools and hospitals for them."

"There need be no fear that Persia will join the Pan-Islamic union projected by Dayer Pasha. The Islamic religion has ruined the Orient and we have no desire to form a union that would again place us in subjection to the Turks."

Condon in Charge
The Tuesday morning session will cover the general topic "Building and Physical Equipment." The program will be in charge of Superintendent Randall J. Condon, Cincinnati, O. In addition to the speaking program, there will be a visual program of plans, exterior, details of equipment, and construction costs of the finest school buildings in the country.

The stout old ship was built at the famous Donald McKay yards in Boston, Mass., in 1869 and, since then, has sailed on all the seven seas and called at most of the important ports around the globe.

Some years ago the Glory of the Seas was purchased by a Tacoma fish company and was put in the service between Puget Sound and Alaska. Each spring she would spread her canvas and sail away to the north, carrying supplies and employees for the Alaska canneries operated by the company, and, in the fall, would return with the season's catch.

The old boat was built of oak and other tough woods and some of these are still in good condition. She is being broken up for what metal she holds.

LEGION CIRCUS TO BE MAMMOTH EVENT OF YEAR

"Advance Man" of Circus Gives Intimate Description of All The Big Show

The American Legion circus on Friday and Saturday, the 24th and 25th, bids fair to be one of the biggest events ever held in Bismarck. The "advance man" for the big circus describes it as follows:

The American Legion circus on Friday and Saturday, the 24th and 25th, bids fair to be one of the biggest things ever given in Bismarck. The shows require fifty or sixty performers and these with the trained animals and assistants for the past two weeks have been busy rehearsing and getting the "properties" in shape for the big event. The general committee of the Legion and Auxiliary have prepared a program that would be hard to beat. The main show or "big top" will give four performances each evening at 7:30, 8:15, 8:45, and 9:15, and the seven or eight side shows will be open all the time. In the "big top" there will be a wild animal act with ferocious man-eating animals. A trained elephant and a monkey, without which no show would be complete, a Punch and Judy show with a real live Punch and Judy, a beautiful dancing act by a dozen young ladies, a troupe of tumblers and a grand ensemble of lady and gentlemen riders who will dance the Virginia reel on horseback. The training alone of the horses to obey instantly the commands of their riders has been in itself a stupendous task. There will be of course the regular grand pageant opening the performance. A real life sized, regular circus band will furnish the music for the "big top" while the side shows will have a little music "all their own." For those wishing to dance there will be music by a good orchestra in the Legion hall, while in the 49's saloon the latest jazz from tin pan alley will be dispensed by experts from a piano—virtuoso unknown. At the bar in the Forty-Niners you may call for your favorite poison whether you get it or not remains to be seen. The vice presidents of the various banking institutions of the city will show where they got their start by peddling peanuts and cracker-jack—they have guaranteed to climb over your freshly polished shoes in the most approved circus manner, but don't kick—think of the honor! Remember the hours for the four performances of the big shows 7:30, 8:15, 8:45, 9:15. Time your arrival so you will be in time for the grand pageant at each performance—then on to the side shows. The admission is the same for all children's tickets for you are all expected to be children on circus night.

Dance at Baker's Hall every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights. Best music and floor in state. 10c a dance.
